

Malaka Hostel – Global Umpa and Collective Dance Ecstasy

Beats that build bridges. A musical celebration of diversity!

With their explosive blend of folk, Balkan beats, pop and Global Umpa, Malaka Hostel effortlessly tear down the invisible wall between band and audience. Folk traditions from the Balkans to the Andes meet infectious grooves, multilingual songs and wild melodies from trumpet and violin – always with one clear mission: collective dance ecstasy.

With their current album “Brucca Beat” (2026), the coyotes opened a new chapter and took it on a successful tour through clubs and festivals across Europe. In 2026, the band also performed live on ZDF Morgenmagazin, one of Germany’s major national morning TV shows, and can be seen in the tragicomedy “Sie glauben an Engel, Herr Drowak?”, performing their cult song “Coyotes del Amor”.
